LIVE THE LITURGY— INSPIRATION FOR THE WEEK

"Come and see," Jesus said to the disciples who were curious to know about him. Today, he whispers this invitation into the deepest place of our heart. Have courage — go, and see what Christ has to show you.

REFLECT AND RESPOND TO SCRIPTURE

First Reading:

In the Lord's call to Samuel, Eli teaches Samuel the importance of "listening" to God's voice. Can you name something you have heard from the Lord?

Second Reading:

Paul saw our physical bodies as a temple of the Holy Spirit, destined to be raised after death just as Jesus was raised from the dead. What are some ways to treat your body with reverence and respect?

Gospel:

In John's account of the call of the first disciples, we hear the first words Jesus speaks in the Gospel of John: "What are you looking for?" How can you convince family or friends that Jesus is what we all should be looking for?

Prayer to the Blessed Virgin Mary before Mass

O Mother of devoted love and mercy, most blessed Virgin Mary, with all my heart and all my affection I take refuge in you, though I am a poor and undeserving sinner. You stood by your most dear Son as he was hanging on the cross. Stand mercifully by me, poor sinner though I am, and by all the priests who today offer this sacrifice, here and in all our holy Church. With the help of your gracious presence, may we offer a sacrifice that is right and acceptable in the presence of the most high and undivided Trinity. Amen.

MASS BOOK IS NOW OPEN FOR 2024.

~~~ In your hands, O Lord, we humbly entrust our brothers and sisters. In this life you embraced them with your tender love; deliver them now from every evil and bid them eternal rest. The old order has passed away: welcome them into paradise, where there will be no sorrow, no weeping or pain, but fullness of peace and joy with your Son and the Holy Spirit forever and ever. Amen.

Saint Anthony—A gift from God

"In the biography Vita Antonii, St. Athanasius wrote these words referring to St. Anthony: "That he was everywhere known, admired and desired by everyone, even those who had not seen him, is a sign of his virtue and God-friendly soul. In fact, neither for writings nor for a profane wisdom nor for any capacity is Anthony known, but only for his piety towards God - and no one could deny that this is a gift from God. As indeed we would not have heard in Spain and in Gaul, in Rome and in Africa of this man, who lived withdrawn in the mountains, if God Himself had not made him known to all, as He does with those who belong to Him, and as He had announced to Anthony since the beginning? Even if Anthony acted in secret and desired to remain hidden, the Lord shows him and those like him to everyone, as a lamp, that those who hear about them know that it is possible to follow the commandments and take courage in following the path of virtue." We celebrate the Feast of St. Anthony January 17.

Angel of God

my guardian dear to whom His love commits me here ever this day be at my side to light and guard to rule and guide. Amen.

St. Clare of Assisi

A devoted follower and friend of St. Francis, centered her life around poverty, prayer, and the Eucharist. As the founder of the Poor Clares, she promoted a ministry of simplicity, adoration, and service to the poor.

Prayer of Discernment

Dear Lord, Here I am! Help me to know the path You would have me walk, to speak the words You would have me speak, to love and serve those You put in my path.

Amen.

Children's Corner

Sharing the Gospel Mexican families share a special treat called a Kings' Cake on January 6th. Hidden inside the cake is one tiny little doll shaped like the baby Jesus. If you find Jesus in your piece of cake, you tell everyone. In today's Gospel, Andrew met Jesus for the first time. Andrew was so excited to find the Savior, he ran to tell his brother he had found Jesus.

Prayer Jesus, help me tell my family and friends about you.

Something to Draw

Mass at a Glance

Part 12: Eucharistic Prayer III – “Do This in Memory of Me”

The night before he died, Jesus did something different, something outside the normal confines of the Passover meal. In His actions, he at one and the same time revealed himself as the true Passover lamb who is given up to free us from death and sin, but also institutes the very prayer by which the Church perpetuates his life-giving Passion, Death, and Resurrection throughout the centuries. This mystery becomes explicit in the Mass when the priest begins the central prayer of the Holy sacrifice, the Eucharistic Prayer. Regardless of which version of the prayer the priest chooses to recite, each prayer follows a similar structure or formula: thanksgiving (usually in the Preface), acclamation (“Holy, Holy, Holy...”), epiclesis (“invocation”), institution narrative and consecration, anamnesis (“remembrance”), oblation, intercessions, and doxology.

The first portion of the EP after the acclamation is referred to by the Greek word epiclesis, which means something like “invocation.” In this portion of the prayer, “the Church implores the power of the Holy Spirit that the gifts offered by human hands be consecrated, that is, become Christ’s Body and Blood.” It is through the power of the Holy Spirit, acting through the person of the presiding priest and his words and actions, that the great mystery of transubstantiation occurs, the word to describe the changing of the substance of the bread and wine into the Body, Blood, Soul and Divinity of Jesus Christ. But also, this section wishes to invoke the Holy Spirit, “that the unblemished sacrificial Victim to be consumed in Communion may be for the salvation of those who will partake of it.” For this is why our Lord came to give his life and give himself to us in the Eucharist. (General Instruction of the Roman Missal, hereafter GIRM, 79c)

We then move to the highest point of the EP and the Mass as a whole, the Institution narrative. It is called this because these words re-present the very words and actions of Christ at the Last Supper, where He instituted the Eucharist. The GIRM states, “The institution narrative and Consecration, by which, by means of the words and actions of Christ, that Sacrifice is effected which Christ himself instituted during the Last Supper, when he offered his Body and Blood under the species of bread and wine, gave them to the Apostles to eat and drink, and leaving with the latter the command to perpetuate this same mystery.” (GIRM, 79d) Here, the priest takes the host and then chalice in his hands and pronounces the words of Christ, also known as the words of Consecration, over them: “Take this, all of you, and eat of it...”/“Take this, all of you, and drink of it...” These words are the words by which the Consecration is accomplished and therefore a priest is bound to pronounce them exactly as they appear without changing, adding, or subtracting any words. In sacramental theology, this is called the “form” of the sacrament, or the essential words necessary for the Sacrament to be valid, or actually take place. From this point, the bread and wine are no longer bread and wine but Christ himself present before us, and this is why certain signs follow the pronouncement of these words. These include the elevation of the host and chalice so all the people may adore Him, the ringing of bells, and the genuflections by the priest.

You will notice that some priests, including myself, add another gesture of reverence at this point. Some choose to hold the thumb and index finger (the fingers used to hold the host) of both hands together from this point until after the vessels are purified. This is a traditional practice called the digitus, and is another sign of reverence to our Eucharistic Lord.
