THE RICHNESS OF LIFE IN CHRIST

Today we have the beautiful story of the woman promised a child, the wonderful exhortation about life in Christ, and a powerful instruction from Jesus. An embarrassment of riches? Not if we take Jesus' words about "welcome" to heart. The many challenges and blessings offered to us today by Elisha, Paul, and Jesus should be cause for rejoicing, and welcomed heartily into our lives. And, like the great treat that they are, they should be enjoyed and shared generously with others.

Today's reading from Romans was chosen very early in the liturgical life of the Church to be the sole apostolic instruction received by candidates for baptism at the Easter Vigil. This illustrates its importance as a core belief, and as a means of comprehending the story of the Resurrection. Christ's resurrection is not merely a story about something that he underwent once upon a time, but it is our story, the story of how we joined the other members of the one Body of Christ, the church. We were not only dead, but we were buried; not ultimately buried, but raised to eternal life with Christ.

The Holy Father (Peter's Pence)

Along with our regular collection this weekend the collection for The Holy Father will be taken up at all masses.

Thank You!

“And whoever gives only a cup of cold water to one of these little ones to drink because the little one is a disciple; amen, I say to you, he will surely not lose his reward.”

In contrast to the harsh sounding statements about those who do not leave father and mother, sister and brother, to be his follower and friend, Jesus offers a simple act to be his disciple - give a child a cup of cold water. Attachment to anything or any one that prevents us from choosing the will of God; from loving others as Jesus loves us; from doing simple acts of kindness; and from accepting the consequences of imitating Him. Jesus frequently taught that being his follower is not complicated, but it is not be easy. The challenge is to not prefer anything to loving like Jesus and teaching others by word and example to do likewise. Certainly we are to love our father and mother, brother and sister, spouse and children, and neighbor, as we love ourselves. Love frees us to do what is right and good for ourselves. Attachments make us slaves to the demands of the person or thing that we cannot do without. Paraphrasing G. K. Chesterton, “The things we cannot do without we do not possess, they possess us.”

TREASURES FROM OUR TRADITION

It's Independence Day week, and there is a link worth tracing between the Declaration of Independence and the language of liturgy. One of the signers of the Declaration on that July 4 long ago was Charles Carroll, probably the wealthiest man in the colonies and one of the few Catholics on the political scene. As a flourish to his signature, he sought to distinguish himself from other prominent citizens bearing the same name by penning "Charles Carroll of Carrolltown"—a defiant "come and get me if you dare" postscript aimed at the British.

Carroll's brother John was a priest and patriot who in 1789 was given the task of organizing the Catholic Church in this country. By 1791 he had assembled a synod, or assembly of delegates, to launch that task formally. Archbishop Carroll wanted to gain acceptance of our faith by American people who mistrusted our customs and could not comprehend our liturgy. He made the amazing proposal to Rome that our liturgy should be prayed not in Latin, but in the vernacular, English. His wish was denied, but one hundred sixty years later, his deep desire helped the American bishops and scholars at the Second Vatican Council to win the vote in favor of the vernacular not just for the United States, but for the Church throughout the world.
