ST. MATTHEW Feast Day September 21

According to the Gospel, Matthew was working at a collection booth in Capernaum when Christ came to him and asked, "Follow me." With this simple call, Matthew became a disciple of Christ.

CALL UPON THE LORD

The very first line of today's first reading summons us to seek the Lord and to call upon God. This sentiment is echoed in the refrain for today's responsorial psalm: "The Lord is near to all who call upon him" (Psalm 145:18a). Saint Paul is the embodiment of someone who constantly sought the Lord. In the excerpt we read today from his letter to the Philippians, we find Saint Paul toward the end of his life, a life he describes as completely consonant with Christ. He writes, "For to me life is Christ" (Philippians 1:21). To find out what it means to live life completely in accord with Christ we need look no further than today's Gospel. There we find that God's love and mercy are immeasurable for all those who seek and call upon the Lord.

EURCHARISTIC ADORATION

Our regular 24-hour Adoration on Thursday through Friday has resumed in church until further notice. In the event a funeral is scheduled on a Thursday, adoration will be moved to the Baptistry. An air purifier has been put in the baptistry for your safety. Thank you for your cooperation and understanding.

Gospel Mt 20:1-16a Did you not agree with me for the usual daily wage? Take what is yours and go."

Many in our culture struggle with the parable of the landowner who pays the same amount to workers who toil for more hours than others. The term "equal pay for equal work" is the mantra for those who want to have wealth like those considered rich and others who attack those who have acquired wealth through honest effort and enterprise. But Jesus was not trying to teach a lesson about inequitable distribution of wealth. He wanted his disciples, and us, to understand that God has given each of us a unique set of talents, abilities and gifts that he expects us to identify, accept, develop and use to the best of our ability for our own benefit and others. No two of us are alike. The criteria for success in the eyes of God is not financial or material wealth. It is how well we have become all that God created us to be. The hallmark of most saints is not how much money or things they acquired, but the many people they inspired to get to know and imitate Jesus. Many of those saints gave up great wealth to become a model of Jesus for others.

TODAY'S READINGS

First Reading — Turn to the LORD, who is generous in forgiving (Isaiah 55:6-9).

Psalm — The Lord is near to all who call upon him (Psalm 145).

Second Reading — Live your lives in a way worthy of the gospel of Christ (Philippians 1:20c-24, 27a).

Gospel — The last will be first, and the first will be last (Matthew 20:1-16a).

TREASURES FROM OUR TRADITION

Along with the reform of the Roman Canon and the redrafting of an ancient Roman prayer in Eucharistic Prayer II, two additional prayers were announced in 1969. Eucharistic Prayer III is a fresh composition. Like Eucharistic Prayer II, it has no preface of its own, but the presider chooses from a long menu of possible prefaces to become part of the prayer on a particular occasion. Also, like Eucharistic Prayer II it has a way to insert the name of the deceased in Masses for the dead such as funerals and memorials. The General Instruction of the Roman Missal views Eucharistic Prayer III as the best substitute for Eucharistic Prayer I on Sundays and feasts.

In practice, this prayer is used very often at Sunday Mass, and its texts are familiar to all members of the assembly. In this prayer, notice that the priest extends his hands over the gifts and calls down the Holy Spirit to change them into the Body and Blood of Christ. This call of the Holy Spirit is called the epiclesis, and Eastern Christians consider it to be the consecration. Latin Christians have long considered the “institution narrative” to be the consecration. Partly in response to a deep sensitivity to the East, the reformers took care to structure all our new prayers with a strong epiclesis. The poetry and images of Eucharistic Prayer III are fruitful sources of meditation. Why not take a sentence or two into your private prayer?
